Sub:- Training in the Technique of manufacture of sera, Vaccines etc., at the Indian Veterinary Research Institute.

Sir,

I have the honour to say that the Director, Indian Veterinary Research Institute, Izatnagar has received repeated requests from the Directors of Veterinary Services of several Provinces and Indian States for providing facilities to their staff for receiving training in the Technique of manufacturing sera and Vaccines at the Institute. In the past these requests have been complied with peacemeal as and when received, but it has been found that admission of such trainees to the Institute in an irregular manner, interferes with the work at the Institute. The Government of India have therefore decided to start a regular course of training in the technique of manufacturing sera and vaccines at the Indian Veterinary Research Institute. The course will be of nine months duration, of which first three months will be devoted to training at Mukteswar and the remaining period at Izatnagar. In view of the limited laboratory accommodation, only six students will be admitted at the time and the first batch will commence training from 16th July 1948. If sufficint students are forthcoming the course will be repeated every year. Admission to this Course will be restricted to persons who possess a degree or diploma in Veterinary Science from a recognised Veterminary College, and preference will be given to those who have previous expereince of Laboratory work. A tuition fee of Rs.26/- per mensem will be charged from each student.

The Director Indian Veterinary Researhh Institute Izatnag

Izatnagar has been authorised to invite applications and to allot seats in the course. I am therefore to request that all nominations may kindly be made to the Director as early as possible. Any further information if required may be obtained from the Director.

I have the honour to be
